

BROKEN PROMISE ENDS IN SUICIDE

Daniel Ebersole Shoots Himself
Rather Than Face
His Wife.

WHISKY WRECKS TWO LIVES.

Well Known Electrician Had Told
Wife He Would Leave Liquor
Alone But Broke His Word.

Daniel C. Ebersole, an electrician, aged about 45 years, residing at 150 west Second South street, committed suicide about 3:30 yesterday afternoon by firing a bullet through his brain. Despondency because he was unable to secure employment and because he had broken his promise to his wife to stop drinking, is given as the cause for the rash act.

The dead body of Ebersole was found by his wife, who had just returned from Peoria, where she went to visit her mother, who is ill. When Mrs. Ebersole opened the door of the little cottage, the first thing she saw was the dead body of her husband lying on a couch in a pool of blood and grasping a .38 caliber revolver.

The bullet entered the head just back of the right ear and crashed through the skull, coming out back of the left ear. Ebersole recovered instantly. When Mrs. Ebersole recovered somewhat from the shock she notified the police and Justice Dana T. Smith. The latter ordered the body sent to O'Connell's where it will be prepared for burial.

No one in the neighborhood heard the shot that killed Ebersole, but the suicide evidently occurred shortly before the return of Mrs. Ebersole as the body was still warm and the room was filled with smoke from the revolver.

A BROKEN PROMISE.

The grief-stricken wife stated that she went to Oregon some weeks ago to attend the funeral of a relative and upon her return found her husband intoxicated. He promised her then to quit drinking and declared if he broke his promise he would kill himself. Mrs. Ebersole did not take the threat seriously. That he had been drinking again was evident from the fact that in the room was a bottle of whisky and a whisky glass.

Ebersole was well known here and had a large number of friends. He worked some time as janitor for the Western Electric company, but lost his position some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebersole were married about 12 years ago. They had no children. Ebersole came from Dallas, Tex., where his father and mother live. His father is said to be a wealthy farmer. No inquest will be held over the remains.

THREE COWS "ARRESTED."

C. B. Grogan, living at 24 east Capitol Hill, was very much wrought up last night when he appeared at police headquarters and demanded that the police take charge of three "prisoners" he had escorted from his place. The prisoners proved to be three cows belonging to neighbors of Grogan. He says that he has spent about $50 digging up a lawn and planting trees in front of his residence and that the cows have been eating the lawn and trees and he wants a stop put to it. The cows were taken to the estray pound.

Fine Feathers

A bird in the hat is worth eight or ten in the bush. Is it? In a period of fifteen years prior to 1903, bird life in this country was reduced fifty per cent. But now we are giving them more of a chance; refuges have been established where the birds can breed in safety; wardens have been appointed whom the Federal Government pays the princely sum of One Dollar per month, their real wages being paid by organizations.

Read this article, "Harbors for Wild Birds," by René Bache, in THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, and learn how we are being saved from the disgrace of a birdless, song-silenced country.

"Vaiti, the Queen," by Beatrice Grimshaw, tells how Vaiti was stranded on a lonely island, and how it turned out to be not quite so lonely as she thought, and, indeed, not so lonely as she might wish.

THE LATE THOMAS PIERPONT.

Thomas Pierpont, born in Rainhill, Lancashire, England, November 6, 1836. His father, John Pierpont, was one of the first locomotive engineers in the world on the Liverpool & Manchester Railway.

He received the gospel in 1859 and in 1859 emigrated to New York, where he completed his apprenticeship as a machinist. In 1855 the entire family moved to Hamilton, Canada, where his father was a railway master mechanic. In 1858 he returned to New York and there married Naomi King of Leeds, Gren county, N. Y. He soon returned to Toronto and engaged in the brass foundry business.

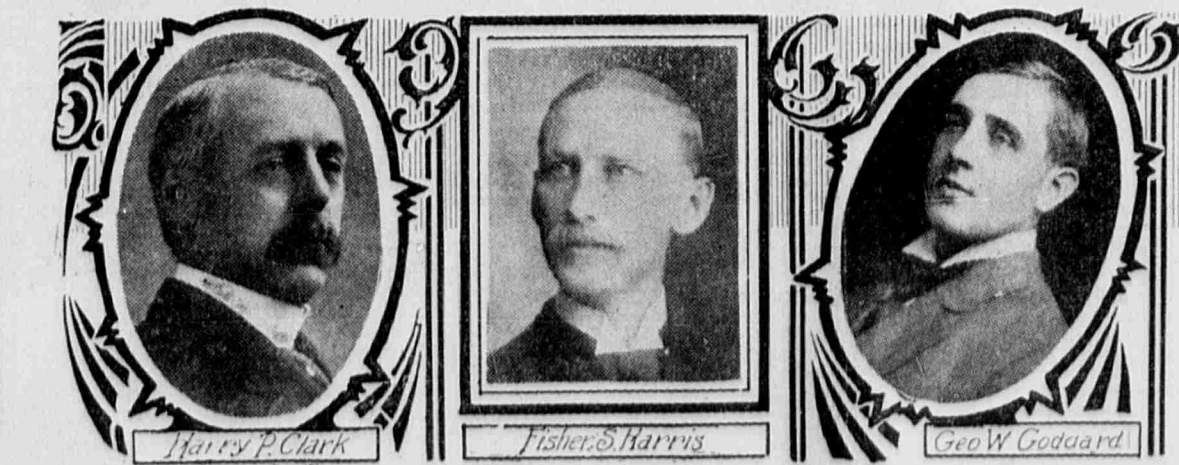

He and his family and mother came to Utah, crossing the plains with Captain Lawry and arriving in Salt Lake October 21, 1856. His home has been in Salt Lake City from that time until the present, excepting a few years spent in Provo.

In 1870 he was made master mechanic of the Utah Central railroad. In 1876 he organized the Salt Lake Foundry & Machine Company, and for many years conducted a successful business under that name.

He was a firm believer in the gospel and accepted all principles of the faith.

In 1873 he married Juventa Beck. He suffered privations and imprisonment for his adherence to the faith he had accepted. He died as he had lived, in full faith to the gospel, highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends and greatly endeared to his numerous family. He died April 16, 1908. The funeral was held in the Fourteenth ward chapel April 19.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN FOR U. C. T. OPENS

Plans for carrying six notices in seven weeks to every banker, business man, hotel and newspaper of Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona and Nevada, are being perfected at the Commercial club as the publicity campaign for the coming Commercial travelers' outing in Salt Lake.

The campaign is under the direction of the three men whose portraits appear above, H. P. Clark representing the Commercial club's convention committee, and George W. Goddard, of the local branch of the U. C. T., and Fisher Harris, who will have direct charge of carrying on the publicity campaign, and who declare that it is one of the most advantageous opportunities to properly advertise Salt Lake, that has yet appeared.

"Traveling men go everywhere," he explains. "They talk to everyone, and they like a good time. They will be given that here, and they will carry a message away for us that we cannot afford to have anything but the best. As an argument to others their words will have an irresistible effect, and more conventions is what the city needs. "The railroads will make special rates which will bring people from as far east as Denver, as far west as Reno, south to Phoenix, and north to Cheyenne. There will be over 10,000 of them, and they will bend every energy to having just as good a time as they can."

The interest of the Commercial club grows out of the fact that Salt Lake has demonstrated that conventions pay when held here because the men who come once always want to come again, and are never sent away with a bad opinion of the town. The club has been steadily working to give Salt Lake a reputation as a great convention town. Denver, in this field, is a keen competitor, and for a long time had a distinct lead, which it still maintains for conventions larger than Salt Lake can care for.

"Let Denver keep the bigger conventions," is the present sentiment in the Commercial club. A convention poorly handled, it is thought, would be more of a criticism than a favorable notice in its effect, and Salt Lake as

LACRIMAL FLOOD IN DIVORCE COURT

Mary French, Who Wanted Alimony, Sheds Tears Before Judge Morse.

TWO OTHER DECREES ISSUE.

Judge Armstrong Frees Two Mismatched Couples During Regular Friday Matinee in Joint Building.

Declaring that she would not come to Utah and live with her husband "among a lot of Mormon farmers," Mrs. Mary F. W. French of Denver yesterday broke down on the witness stand and shed copious drafts of tears. Mrs. French is suing her husband, Frank D. French, for divorce, and yesterday the matter came up on the hearing of her petition to have defendant pay her $100 per month alimony and attorneys' fees pending the result of the action. French is the manager of the Big Four Advertising company of this city, and his wife is suing him for divorce on the grounds of infidelity and non-support. When the husband came into Judge Morse's courtroom, Mrs. French burst into tears, and soon the husband was crying, too. She refused to come to Salt Lake to live with him, at the request of Mr. French's attorney.

GETS FIFTY PER MONTH.

She said she required $100 per month for her support, although she could not enumerate the articles she should require. She said her husband had sent her $25 since February, 1906. She said she had been living with her brother at Ridgway, Colo., and is now stopping at the Knutsford with her sister, Judge Morse at the conclusion of the hearing, ordered French to pay his wife $50 attorneys' fees and $50 per month during the pendency of her action.

The regular weekly divorce mill was ground in Judge Armstrong's court, W. E. Baird was given a divorce from Ivah K. Baird, on the grounds of desertion, alleged to have taken place at Portland, Ore., a year ago. They were married in this city Dec. 14, 1899.

ANOTHER WIFE FREE.

Rosanna Clark charged William Clark with cruelty, and witnesses corroborating this testimony, she was given a decree. The couple were married in this city in April, 1906.

William J. Watson appeared to show cause why he should not pay to his wife, Mary Corser Watson, temporary alimony and attorneys' fees, pending the outcome of the divorce proceedings between them. Watson is the man who according to his wife's complaint drove her from their home without any clothing save what she had on at the time, and refused to give up her wearing apparel. Judge Armstrong ordered that he return her clothing, and pay her $25 per month alimony and $50 attorneys' fees pending the adjudication of the case.

RHEUMATISM.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp weather or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. ## WOMEN WHO BELIEVE IN PERUNA

Honest Women Who Are Not Afraid to Tell the Truth About Pe-ru-na.

MRS. F. E. HENDERSON

Caught Cold Easily.

Mrs. F. E. Henderson, 221 Ninth St., Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "I never had any faith in patent medicines until I tried Peruna, but my experience with this reliable medicine has taught me that there is one which can be trusted, and which will not fail in time of need."

"For the past few years I have found that I caught cold easily, which would settle in a most unpleasant catarrh of the head. I had to be especially careful about being out of evenings, and not to get chilled when dressed thin for parties, but since I have used Peruna my general health is improved, and my system is in such good condition that even though I am exposed to inclement weather it no longer affects me."

"I have a splendid appetite and enjoy life, being in perfect health."

Pe-ru-na Tablets.

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have labored incessantly to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous efforts have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets. These tablets represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna, and each tablet is equivalent to one average dose.

Mrs. Josephine Holst, 162 E. First St., Portland, Ore., writes that she was troubled seriously with catarrh of the throat, that she used Peruna and was wonderfully helped in two weeks, and in a little over two months her system was rid of all traces of catarrh.

Mrs. Morris was with her husband when the end came, having been summoned to his bedside several days ago.

Mr. Morris left Salt Lake recently to engage in the mercantile business at Gold Center, and was there stricken with the disease that proved fatal. Besides a widow, he is survived by two sons, Scott and Robert, and two daughters, Zetta and Mackie. Robert is a lieutenant on the cruiser California, now in Pacific waters, and Mackie is with her grandmother, Mrs. Nichols, in Los Angeles.

PLENTY OF TROUBLE.

ROB GARFIELD STORE.

The Leader Clothing store at Garfield was robbed at about 11 o'clock last night, the thieves making away with $60 cash, a number of pairs of shoes, a box of hats and two or three dozen silk ties. Officers in the city were notified to be on the lookout for the robbers, and the deputy sheriff at Garfield is making diligent search for the guilty parties.

FOR THE WOMAN THAT'S FAT.

A Detroit physician says that the cheapest and safest mixture a fat woman who wants to get thin can use is one-half ounce Marmola (get it in the original half-ounce package), one-half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and three and one-half ounces Syrup Simplex. The proper amount to take is a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

These ingredients may be obtained from any druggist at small cost and make a combination that is not only excellent as a fat reducer, being able, it is claimed, to take off a pound a day without causing wrinkles, but is also a splendid help to the system as a whole, regulating the stomach and bowels (where the fat person's troubles begin), clearing the skin of pimples and blotches. No exercise is required to help the remedy in its work and, best of all, no dieting is necessary while taking it—you can eat what you like.

JOSEPH R. MORRIS DEAD.

Joseph R. Morris, at one time a commissioner of Salt Lake county, died yesterday at Winnemucca, Nev., the cause of death being pneumonia. The announcement came in a dispatch received by Scott Morris, son of deceased.

The Value of Health.

Who can set a money value on health? It is absolutely priceless.

No one in good health can fully appreciate what it means to have poor health. The days are long and tedious. The nights horrible and painful. Nothing goes right. Even the mind becomes deranged and injured by continued poor health.

Once liberated from the thrall of sickness words fail to express the joy and relief.

Peruna has been the means of relieving more women from ill health in the United States than, perhaps, any other medicine.

A multitude of women stand ready to give testimony in favor of Peruna whenever occasion offers.

Dyspepsia Entirely Relieved.

Miss Lillie C. Martin, Shelbyville, Tenn., writes: "Everybody says I look better than I have for two or three years, and I sincerely thank you for your kind advice."

"I believe your treatment has entirely cured me. I can eat anything I want. I believe your remedies will cure any case of indigestion or dyspepsia."

MISS HELEN SAUERBIER

Head and Throat.

Miss Helen Sauerbier, 815 Main St., St. Joseph, Mich., writes:

"Last winter I caught a sudden cold which developed into an unpleasant catarrh of the head and throat, depriving me of my appetite and usual good spirits."

"A friend who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it and I sent for a bottle at once, and I am glad to say that in three days the phlegm had loosened, and I felt better, my appetite returned and within nine days I was in my usual good health."
